ONLINE RESOURCES

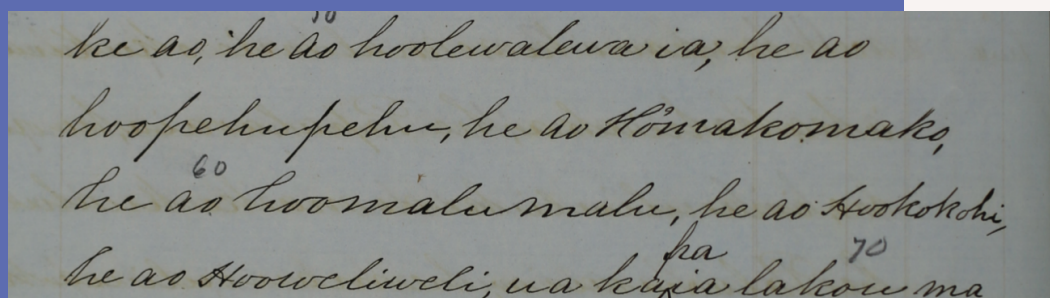

www.ulukau.org

Ulukau.org is the Hawaiian Electronic Library. It is a collaboration project between Hale Kuamo'o of UH Hilo's College of Hawaiian Language and the Alu Like's Native Hawaiian Library. This website can be accessed in both English and Hawaiian languages. Regarding mo'okū'auhau, there are several resources that may be helpful for your research:

- The Hawaiian Genealogy Indexes
- Hawaiian language newspapers
- Hawaiian language dictionaries (searchable)
- Place Names of Hawai'i/Hawai'i Place Names (searchable)
- Māhele Database
- Photograph collection
- Large selection of digitized books (including some Polk Directories, published genealogies, Fornander, Beckwith, etc.)

This project would not be possible without the many people and organizations that have contributed to our success.

Our team would like to acknowledge and thank Alyssa 'Ānela Purcell for the initiative that she has taken to provide initial transcriptions for this collection. We recognize the resilience of our ancestors as a major contribution to this project. This project would not be possible without Dr. Lilikalā Kame'eleihiwa and her students at Hawai'inuiākea. We would also like to thank the Hawai'i State Archives and Kamehameha Schools for providing the resources necessary to successfully continue this project.

We are honored to represent the following organizations, and look forward to continue to provide more free and accessible resources to the public.
